

Recall of several Eat Real Puff products due to undeclared milk allergen

The United Kingdom Food Standards Agency (FSA) has issued a food recall alert on several Eat Real Puff products due to the presence of an undeclared milk allergen.

2 As the implicated products were imported into Singapore, the Singapore Food Agency (SFA) has directed two importers, Karstel Marketing Pte Ltd and Richoco Pte Ltd, to recall the product. The recall is ongoing.

3 Allergens in food could result in allergic reaction in individuals who are sensitive to it. Under the Sale of Food Act (Food Regulations), food products containing ingredients that are known to cause hypersensitivity must be declared on food packaging labels to safeguard public health.

4 The presence of milk allergen does not pose a food safety issue to consumers at large, except for those who are allergic to milk. Consumers who have purchased the affected product, and who are allergic to milk, should not consume it.

5 Details of the products are as follows.

1. Eat Real Quinoa Puffs
